

POLI 341

Contemporary U.S. Foreign Policy

Dr. Steven Campbell
Spring 2009
MW, 2:30-3:45 p.m.

Topics to be covered will include:

Bush Administration's Foreign Policy
War on Terrorism
Vietnam, Persian Gulf, Iraq Wars
Presidential Powers
Covert Operations
Homeland Security
Countering Iran & North Korea

9/11 & Aftermath
The Military
War, Media & Propaganda
CIA & Intelligence Agencies
State & Defense Departments
U.S., UN, & NATO
Rise of Russia & China

Questions? Contact Dr. Steven Campbell

Office: 111 Hubbard Hall
Phone: 313-7137
Email: campbel8@gwm.sc.edu

ADVISING

If you're pursuing a B.A. in Liberal Studies, this course can count toward the following:

- 1) Gen Ed. requirement for Liberal Arts;
- 2) Your major--or 2nd major--requirements in Social & Behavioral Sciences; or,
- 3) Your cognate, if in Political Science (12 hours of PolSci coursework--300 level or above).

Also, this course can be used as an elective. In addition, if you're planning to transfer, having a 300 level course on your transcript looks good.

Finally, you might consider taking this course if you're pre-law and/or thinking of majoring in Education, Political Science, History, Criminal Justice, Sociology, or Psychology.